Extenway announces launch of new Bedside Terminal solution for Hospitals

18 November 2008. Extenway Solutions Inc. (TSX Venture Exchange: EY), provider of Interactive TV and Guest Media Solutions, announced today that it was entering the Healthcare Industry with the launch of its new Bedside Terminal solution; ExtenwayMD™

Extenway's experience in building reliable and secure media and connectivity solutions for the guest-centric Hospitality sector lends itself well to the Healthcare industry and represents a significant competitive advantage. Furthermore, the revenue model Extenway has established can bring significant returns to hospitals and foundations.

ExtenwayMD™ enables hospitals to deliver a better patient care environment by enabling education, communication, access to clinical solutions and digital entertainment– all at the bedside.

The patient experience will be enhanced by providing them access to relevant education on their condition, information on their care-giver team and hospital information, premium entertainment, as well as helping them keep in touch with family and friends through integrated video-conferencing. The ExtenwayMD™ terminal will benefit clinicians by serving as an access-point to their point-of-care solutions. Hospital Administrators will see their healthcare facilities gain operational efficiencies, increase patient and visitor satisfaction, improve their quality of care and boost profitability.

“With an increasing number of hospitals working on delivering a better patient experience, we believe that this is a good opportunity for Extenway to bring our extensive technology and experience to the healthcare industry” said Jack McAllister, President and CEO. “By improving the patient experience and helping them get better informed about their condition and treatments, we are making it easier for hospitals to provide safe, high-quality care.”
